REFLECTIONS

"On the Move"

*Harrisonburg High
Harrisonburg Elementary
Vol. 5*

J. T. Mayo, Jr.

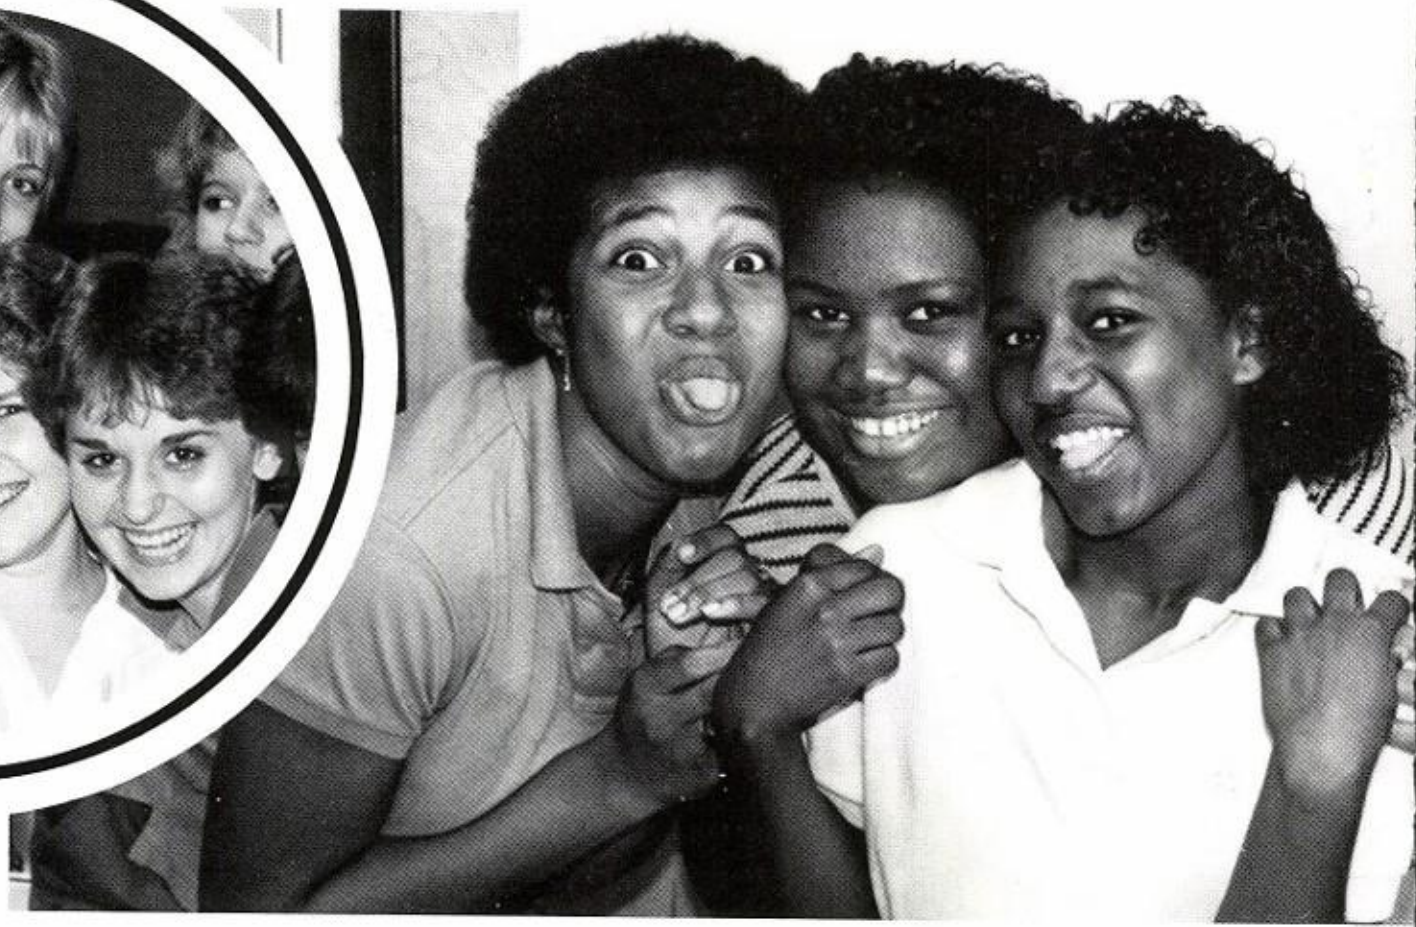

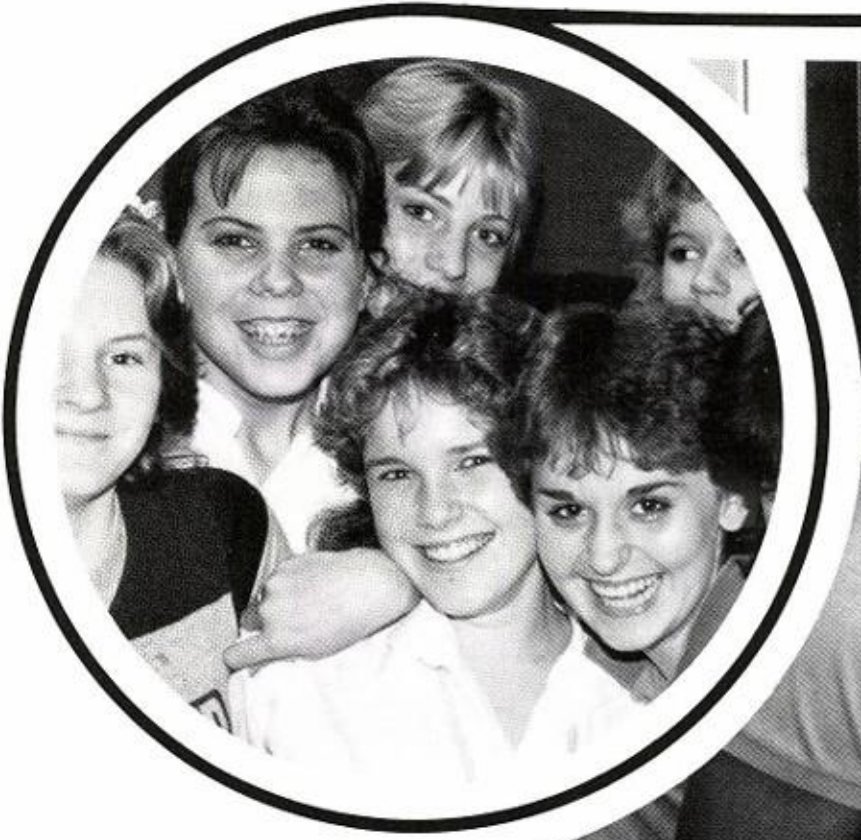

In appreciation for his invaluable support, unending encouragement, and unfailing interest, we humbly and gratefully dedicate this edition of "REFLECTIONS, '85" to Dr. J. T. Mayo, Jr., our former school board member. Dr. Mayo began serving on the school board January 2, 1973, and served in this capacity until his death on December 18, 1983. During his school board tenure, he served as vice-president and chairman of the finance committee.

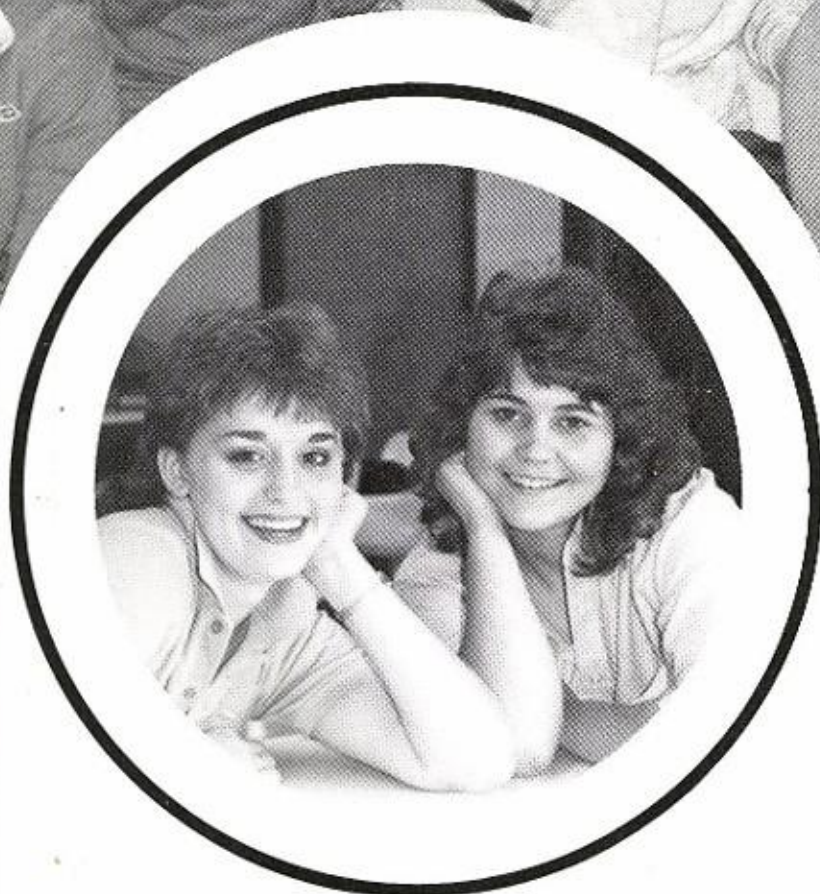

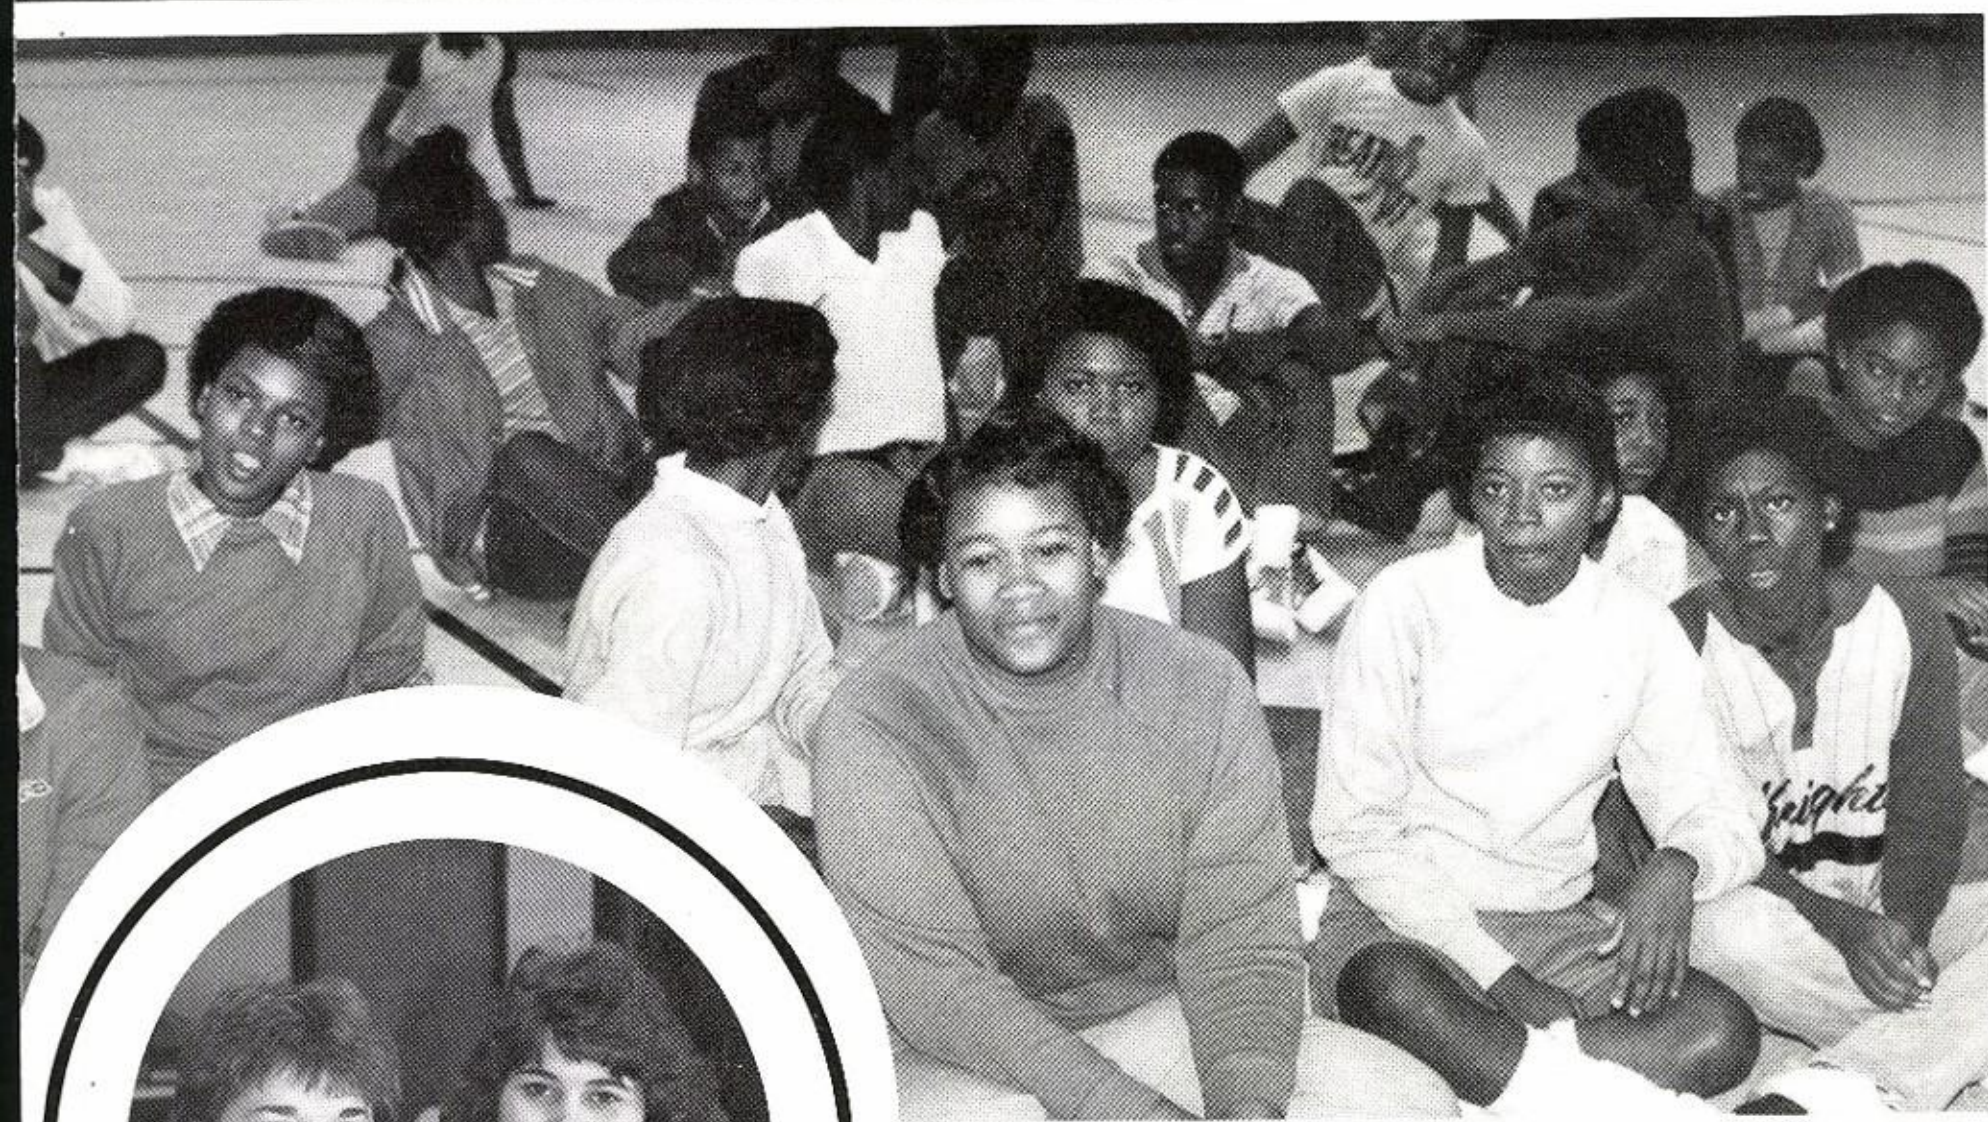

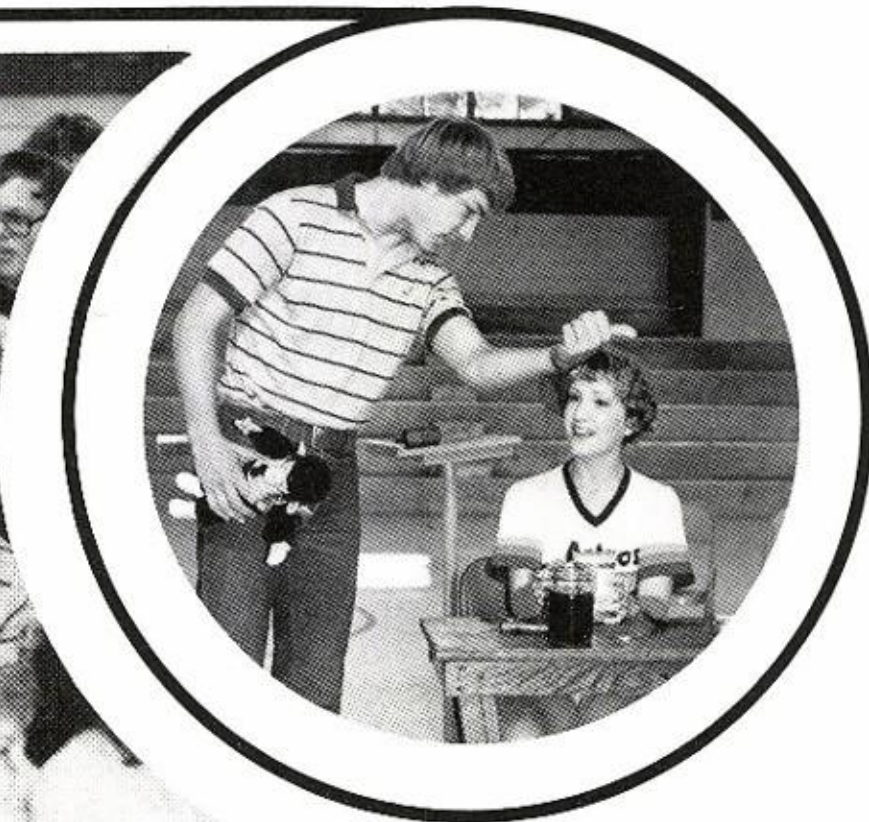

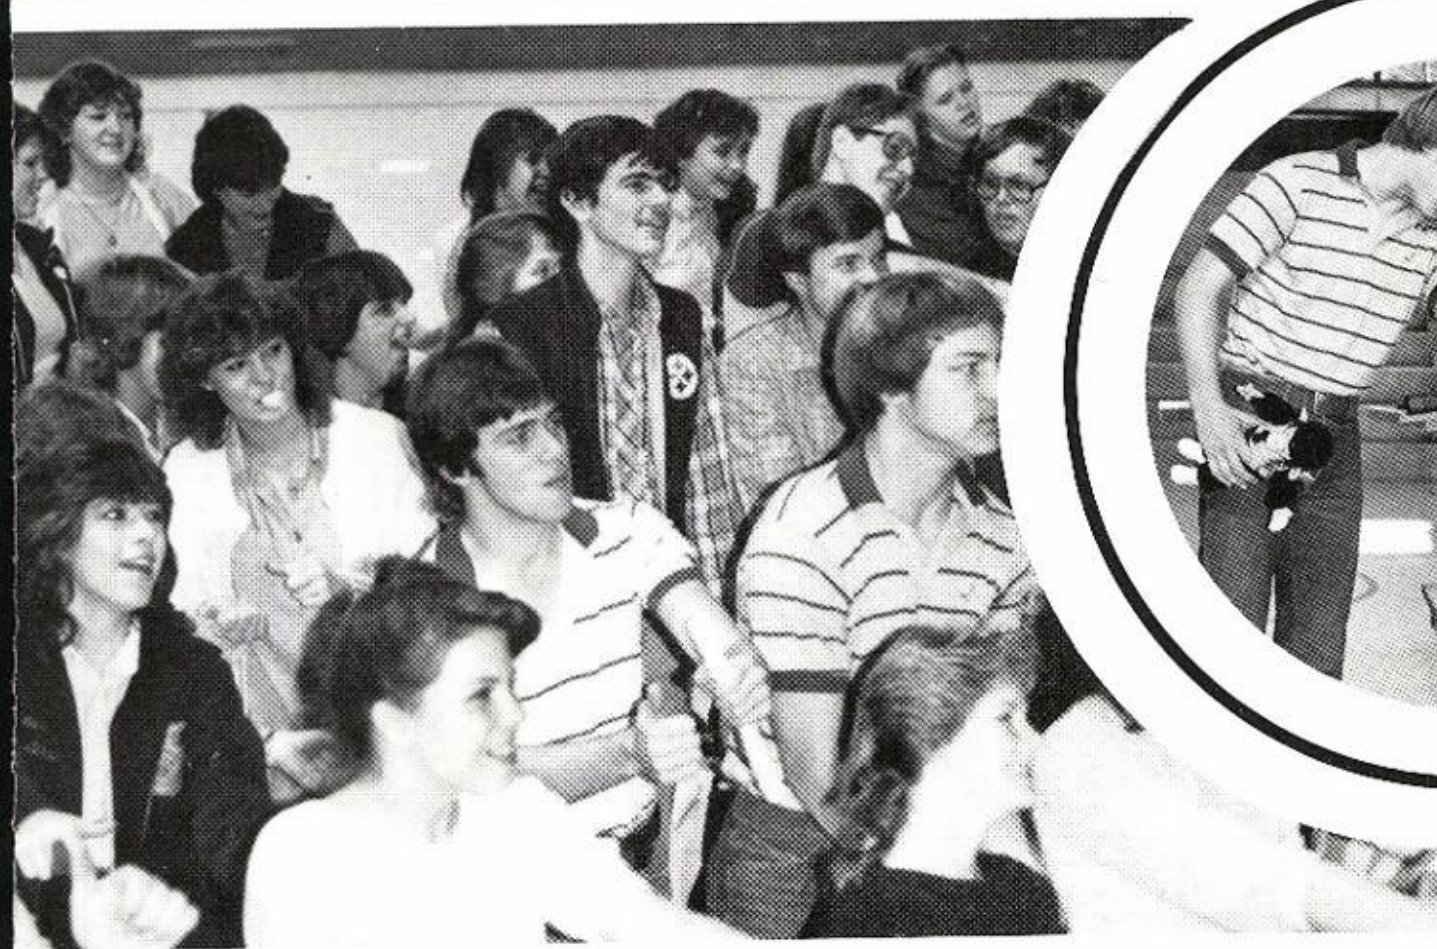

He was a loyal supporter of all our school activities, as well as a dedicated Christian. All of our lives were made richer because our paths crossed. We sincerely appreciate the time and effort that he devoted to help improve our lives and our school system.

Our 1984-85 Miss H.H.S. is Alice Richardson. Alice has been a considerate friend to her fellow students at Harrisonburg High School. She has been an outstanding member of her student body and school clubs. During her high school career, Alice has received various awards. However, Miss H.H.S. is certainly one of her greatest achievements. Congratulations, Alice!

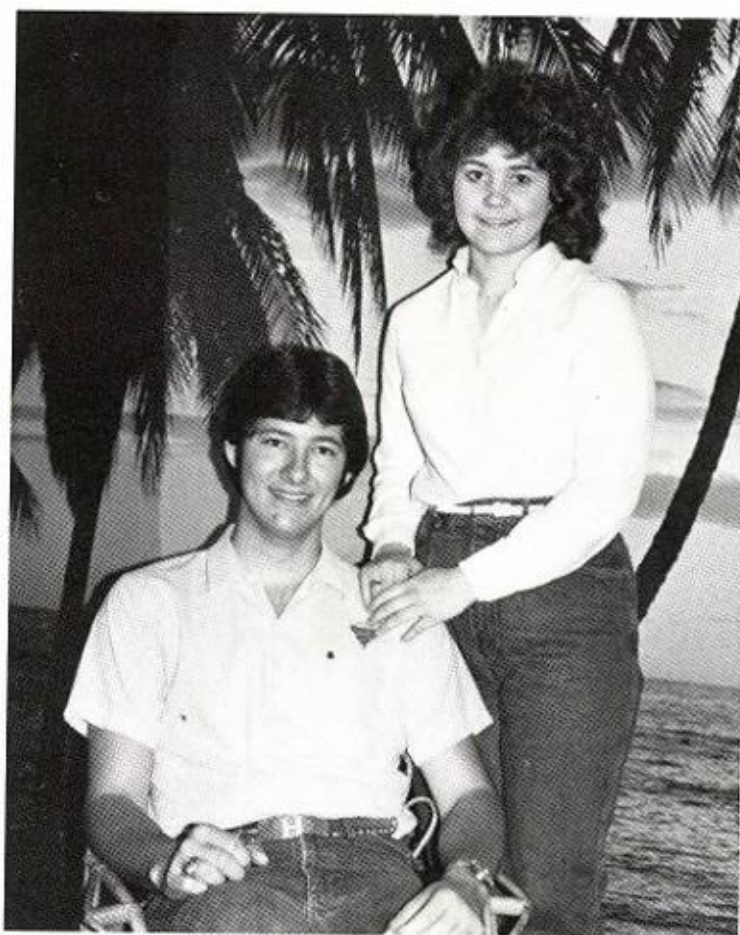

Our 1984-85 Mr. H.H.S. is Jeffery Bell. Jeffery has displayed his athletic abilities through our school basketball program. He has been an active member of FFA, and he was chosen as senior class beau. Congratulations, Jeffery!

The Reflections staff of 1985 is honored to present Who's Who at Harrisonburg High School. To be eligible for Who's Who, a student must have an overall B average and participate in extra-curricular activities. These seventeen students are outstanding in areas of scholarship and leadership. We congratulate these "star" students.

Rally

Each year academic performance of Harrisonburg High School students is tested at the Central Louisiana High School Rally at Louisiana College in Pineville. HHS students compete with students from other schools in the surrounding areas. Our students made a fine showing at the literary rally in 1985, and several were allowed to compete on the state level. We are proud of these students and urge others to strive for academic achievements and recognition.

Nobody's memories are quite like yours. Nobody's class ring should be either.

When your class ring is from Balfour it can be as unique and special as you are. Because you choose the style, the stone, the decoration, the engraving - to express your interests, activities, feelings. Your own personal class ring from Balfour. No other can express who you are so exactly. Or help you recall those special times so clearly.

Balfour. No one remembers in so many ways.

Reflections

EDITOR'S NOTE

The 1984-85 school year has been especially enjoyable for me because I have had the opportunity to serve as editor of Reflections '85. I would like to express my sincere appreciation to the following people who have helped to make my job much easier: Mrs. Kay White, who was Harrisonburg Elementary School's yearbook adviser; Mrs. Vera Smith and Mrs. Eloise Hughes, who served as advertisement consultants; and Mrs. Sue Holley and Mrs. Barbara Blood, who graciously allowed us to use their homes for photography sessions. However, without the hard work and dedication of one very special person, this book would not have been possible. That person is Mrs. Annette Mayo, who served as Harrisonburg High School's yearbook adviser. Mrs. Mayo has given her time and energy to this project. Without her, Reflections '85 would not have become a reality.

Other persons who helped me were the yearbook staff members. This staff has worked consistently and conscientiously to produce a fine memory book. Also, I cannot exclude the parents who were both supportive and interested in this project.

I feel honored to have had the opportunity to work with these very special people. Being editor of Reflections '85 will be a fond memory in my heart for years to come.

Gwile Paul

Layout Editors

Jamie Trichel, Bernie Cannaday and Donna Holley

We will always remember the hard work and dedication in constructing this yearbook. This past year we have sold ads, typed, designed pages, and hardest of all, met each deadline.

We could not end this year though without saying thank you to Mrs. Mayo whom we will never forget for her hard work in making this yearbook a successful one.

Typists

Tongeia Washington, Buffy Hatten, Eunice Woods and Donna Husbands

Typing for the yearbook is hard work because you have to be very careful not to make mistakes. It was fun though, because we felt as if we were accomplishing something and could see the pictures before anyone else.

We were glad we could help out in our small way.

Advertising Layout Editor

Amanda Richey

Although working on the advertising layouts was difficult, I took great pleasure in being able to do this because the support of our advertisers is necessary for us to be able to have a yearbook. I hope I have pleased our patrons with my representation of their businesses.

ADVERTISING SALES

Becky Young, Amanda Richey and Ingrid Cooper

The advertising sales department is hard work but when we see all the money going to a better yearbook it is all worth it.

On behalf of the yearbook staff we would like to thank the patrons who supported our yearbook. We wish you much success in business.

Perfect Attendance certificates were given to Todd Watson — 4 years, and John Meyers — 2 years.

Sports

The 1984-85 year was an exciting one for the Lady Bulldogs. From day one they were striving to pursue, what seemed to some, a lifetime dream: that dream to make it to the Sweet Sixteen Tourney and capture the Class B state championship. In order for them to accomplish this goal they first had to go through a number of preparation steps.

The first step included double headers and jamborees. This was a time when the Lady Bulldogs were first exposed to the court, the smell of popcorn, the screeching sound of the referee's whistle, and the loud noises from the screaming fans.

The second step — the regular season games. Here the Bulldogs got a chance to compete against teams around their area and a chance to compete in a number of tournaments. During these games the Bulldogs learned how to deal with sweet victory as well as bitter defeat.

The third step consisted of district, bi-district, regional, and quarter finals. It was at this time that the Lady Bulldogs showed their coach, their fans, and most important of all themselves what the word character really meant. They displayed this character in the play-off games by never giving up when dreams seemed impossible. This was a vital time for the Lady Bulldogs, for they knew in their minds that they were only one step from reaching what they had worked so hard for all season — Sweet Sixteen. A step that they so eagerly and proudly took.

Here, the popcorn smelled a little better, the whistles sounded a little louder, and the fans got a little rowdier. But through all the noise, tension and excitement, the Lady Bulldogs came within seven points of capturing the State B crown. Although the Bulldogs didn't bring home the Big Gold Ball, they brought to their fans, their coach, and their town a sense of pride and a spirit that lives on for the upcoming year.

The Small Club won best overall Small Club in the parish and third place for club record book. The Jr. Club won first in yell and first in talent. Jeremy Mitchell had the boy's outstanding record book in the parish.

Honor Club

The Honor Club was on the move in 1984-85 with fall tapping, a float in the Fort Beauregard Battle Festival parade, a play in the Halloween program, cupcake sales at Valentine's, popcorn sales at the canteen, and a spring trip to Alexandria. Sponsors: Mrs. Pam Swayze, Mrs. Kay White.

Club members are Jeremy Mitchell, Nick Costanza, Raquel Langley, Barbara Mayo, Carl Brannon, Susie Hughes, Paige Terry and Carla Fair.

New members tapped are Carl Brannon, Carla Fair and Paige Terry.

Susie Hughes and Barbara Mayo 'dressed' for Halloween.

Beauty and the Beast? No, it's only Halloween program storyteller Mrs. Nan Ewing and club sponsor Mrs. Pam Swayze.

The club's float in the Ft. Beauregard parade was a tribute to honor and service. 'Nurses' Carla, Barbara, Susie and Paige tend to 'soldiers' Jeremy's injuries.

Club members dressed as medical personnel and wounded soldiers of the Civil War period.

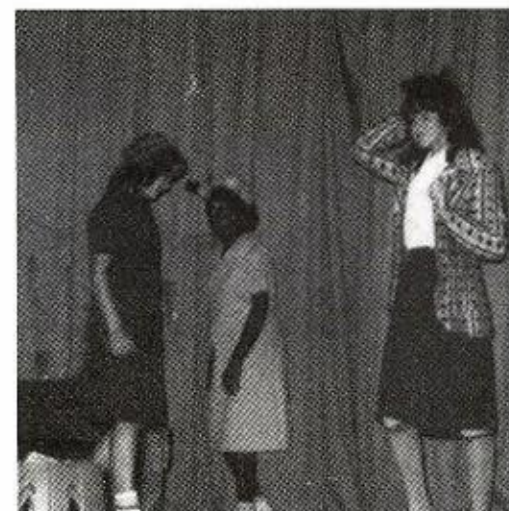

Eighth graders Dwayne Knapp, Adrean Walton, Jim Mannon and Bryan Martin play construction workers in the club's Halloween play.

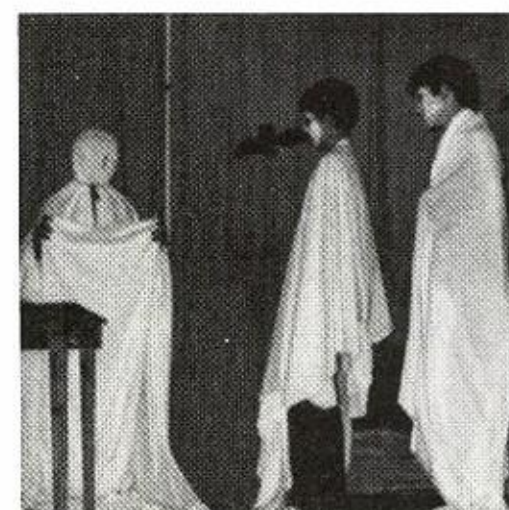

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mayo pull the club's float in the Ft. Beauregard parade.

'Doctor' Nick dresses the wounds of 'soldier' Carl. The float represented a field hospital during the Civil War days.

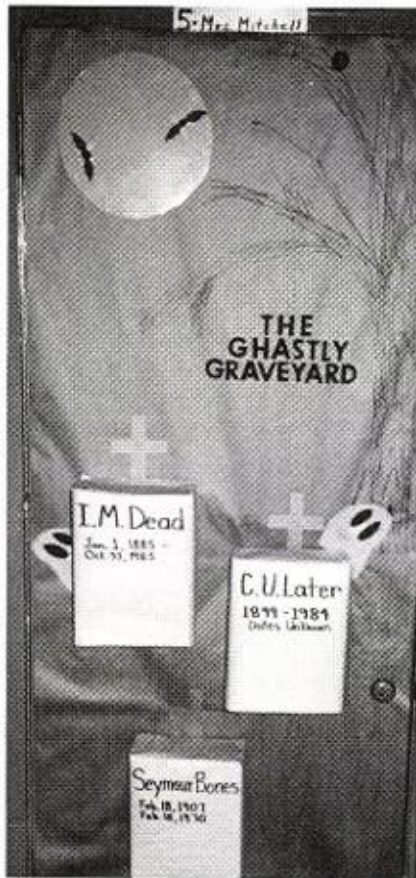

Brenda Walter helps club members Carla Fair and Barbara Mayo with the Halloween play about a 'hysterical' house.

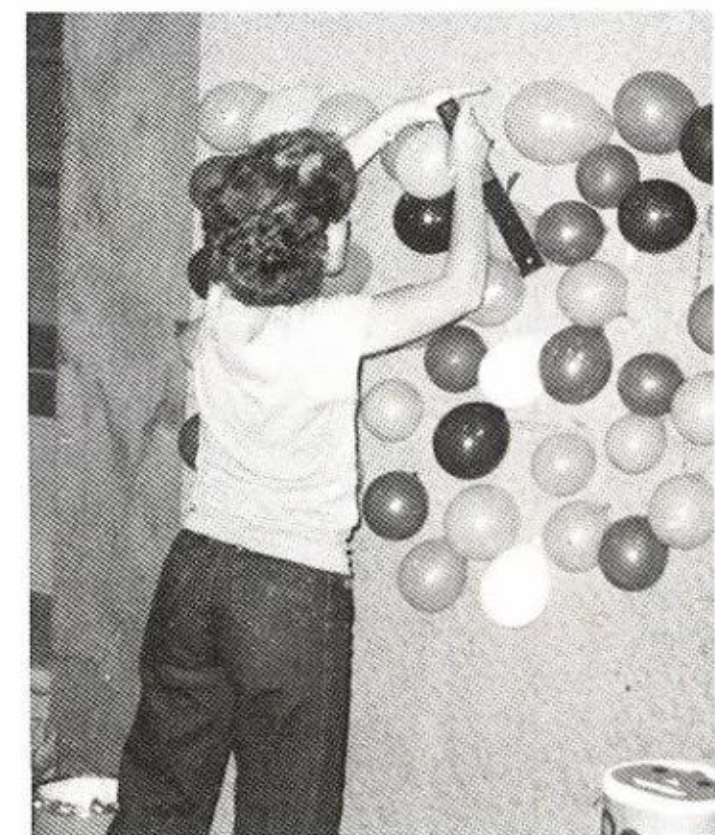

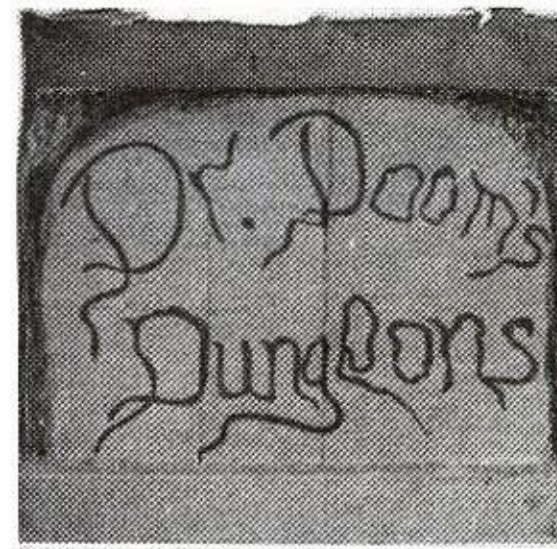

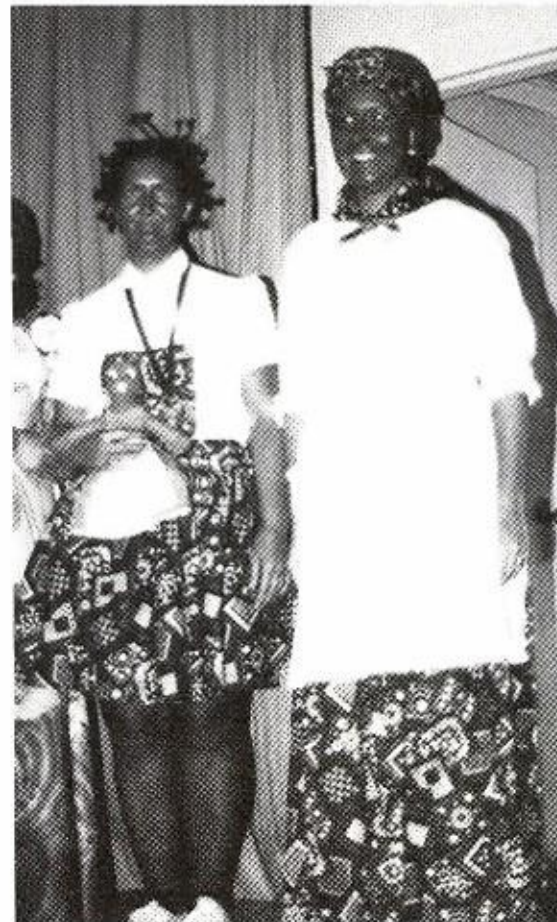

'Ghost' Michael Rainey assists members Nick Costanza and Jeremy Mitchell in the club's Halloween play.

Halloween

The 1984 Halloween daytime festivities consisted of a student costume contest, a teacher costume parade, a door decoration contest, and a play, all sponsored by the Honor Club. The annual carnival was held at night with booths, concessions, and games.

H.E.S. Achieves Model School Status

In April, 1985, H.E.S. achieved Model School status in the Louisiana Criteria of Excellence in reading. H.E.S. was rated outstanding on all 17 criteria of the program. Louisiana Deputy Superintendent of Education Dr. D. G. Joseph presented H.E.S. the Model School award in May. Other dignitaries at the presentation included Dr. Sam Dale, Catahoula Superintendent; Mr. Keith Guice, Superintendent-elect; Mrs. Beverly Weston, Louisiana Department of Education; Mrs. Candy Nolen, parish supervisor; Mrs. Sandy McClary, LEARN technical assistant; Mr. Richard Mayo, school board member, and Mr. Howard Cater, newly appointed H.E.S. principal. Staff and volunteers received certificates for their contributions to the reading program.

Dr. Joseph presented the Model School award to Mr. David Mitchell, principal.

Mr. Guice, Dr. Dale and several retired teachers attended the ceremonies.

Barbara Mayo, outstanding scholastic student, led dignitaries and school in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Dr. Joseph presented Mrs. Carolyn Martin with a certificate (above). Teachers and parents attended the reception (right).

Mr. Mayo and Mr. Cater at the reception following the ceremonies.

Mrs. Nolen, Rev. Bill Cotten and Mrs. McClary participated in the ceremony.
